

DRILL

I say that you say that.
You can't ask me to look What do you mean when you write, when you say?
I like, don't like you.
What are you writing?
Nothing, I am not writing
anything.
You don't mean a word
you say.
Why do you take
everything so personally said he to me, or he to she.
Don't just talk about something, talk about
something else.
You are talking to me as if the argument isn't already over.
You are talking to me as if the argument is already over.
Don't say that to me.
Don't need to.
I have no words to
counter that.
Stories told of people
persuading you, of false
arguments and weak
excuses blinded you
blinded me.

Don't say that to me, you don't need to.

I have no words to counter that. I agree with
you. I AGREE I AGREE!

Speak coherently, they say. All my world's reduced to fragments. Or all the world has gone and multiplied itself up to fragments.

Fig. 13.1 Drill